

(It's like U-HAUL)

Good evening gentlemen. This is team 4 aka team awesome, the A team....

I am sundar, this is tam, that is andrew, he is roberto and thats duke. who are we? We are 5 filthy rich billionaires with a million dollar invention. There is a big surprise later on. (bruce wayne is our sponsor. batplane)

Transportation is a big problem in USA. It's a trillion dollar industry. Most of the people have to wait or spend thousands of dollars to get want you want. It's a very slow process in getting your ticket, waiting for the plane to dock, waiting for your seats, baby crying... it's not great. For now the fastest means of travel is by air unless you are kirk and spock who can beam themselves with the teleportation device.

How many people would love to travel from DC to Florida without going through the airline process? What if you want to attend the premiere of Mad Max in California but you can't get the tickets to fly there? What if you want to go on a honeymoon with a limited budget? Or if you wanted to hangout with some you just met on facebook, twitter or instagram but lives in west coast?

We said earlier that the fastest and the safest means of transportation is by air. What if we have the solution for all your problems? What if we created something that's is simple and affordable for the people of united states of America? One of the greatest minds in the world, Alan Key, once said "The best way to predict the future is to invent it." Without wasting anytime we present to you the future: Planes for Hire.

We have created something so unique and simple that solves many problems that we have in everyday life. Time is money, we know you cannot afford to lose it. With a simple click of a button you can travel anywhere in the United States. The best part is that it's at almost no cost at all. Yep you all heard it right. You can all travel in fancy, luxurious aircrafts for free.

My colleague here is going to explain to you how you can enjoy the ride with a click of a button.

Hello, my name is _____. I'm going to demonstrate how to use our web app. Our application is all about the usage of personal airplanes. The user checks out a personal plane at an airport, arrives at the designated date, flies to their destination, and checks it out. Without an account, the user is capable of viewing existing airports in the apps database. In order to check out a plane, however, they are required to register an account.

- Go to registration page

Here, you can see a typical registration page. You just fill in information regarding your location, and supply an email ID and password.

- Go to Main.php

Now back at the home page, a beautiful map has appeared. The icons with the red airplane over them represent airports with planes available for check out.

You can see a few input fields to the right of the map. This will allow you to check out a plane under your account. The user is expected to supply a source and destination airport, and a length of time that they intend to check it out. You may also notice that by clicking on the icons on the map, the source and destination airport are automatically filled. Most importantly, however, is their choice of planes. The drop down list shows all planes owned by our company, but only the planes available at the source airport will have a check mark.

- Check out a plane without getting put on a waitlist

Through the power of science and magic, we have a checked out plane. The user is expected travel to their destination within the time they allocated. If they fail to check out a plane in the time allocated, a late fee will be applied and they will be billed accordingly.

- Check out a plane under a late account

Poor fool...

- View user's balance under their account. Should be negative, or something.

Looking for an airplane near you strain your eyes? Lucky for you, we have a simple-to-use search bar at the top-right of the home page. Simply type in the name of your state, or the name of the airport, and click on the search button. You'll be taken to a search page ordered by relevance.

- Type in TX in search bar, and demonstrate.

You can also type in multiple search arguments

- Type in TX and CA
- Go to user page

The user will be able to change their personal information like address, Name, and email. They can also pay late fees and change profile picture. This is the default picture. you can view your waitlist, clear waitlist and change password.

- Admin Page

Self explanatory.

Bruce Wayne is our sponser, bitches!!!!!!!!!!!!!! Ask for questions. Professor immediately answers.